Union Suits for Men

Fit and service go together in a Peerless Union Suit, and they go mighty well. The Peerless fits because it's knit that way; it wears for the same reason and because of the top class material put into it. You can't make a mistake when you buy Peerless Union Suits.

Each Suit has a closed crotch that in itself is an assurance of underwear comfort.

The man who wears Peerless is not hampered by his underwear. It gives freely with every move-ment and posture of the body.

The varsity eight cared race will be rowed upstream, starting from the irawbridge at 4.30 p. m., and finish-ng opposite the Harvard quarters, four lles up the river. If weather or water conditions require, the race may be postponed from time to time until 5.30 p. m., after which it will have to 6.30 p. m., after which it will have to go over until the following afternoon.

Owing to the uncertainty resulting from the close finish last year when Yale was declared a winner by four inches, only one judge will be stationed at the finish. Harry A. Fisher has been chosen for this position, with N. Otis Rockwood as a substitute, W. H. Miekleham, an old Columbia oarsman, has again been selected as referere.

The two preliminary events, the races for varsity substitutes and freshman eights, will be started opposite the Navy Yard and will finish at the drawbridge. The substitute crews will be sent away at 10.15 a.m. and the freshman eights half an hour later.

The Crimson's rowing squad will leave for their quarters at Red Top, Conn., on June 7.

Thursday afternoon the Greensville Grammar school met defeat at the Grammar hands of St. Patrick's baseball team was shown in the final dealings, the official advices which suggested some reduction of the strain between Austria and Italy.

In the main today's operations were professional, the trading element veer-ing from the long to the short account and back again with such rapidity as to make for frequent confusion of prices, eading and several other spec-ulative favorites reflecting intermittent pressure, and the movement elsewhere showed a mixture of gains and Among the war specialties Bethlehem Steel partly reasserted its recent leadership, regaining almost ten oints and retaining the great part of its gain.

Pressed Steel Car, the locomotive issues, some of the motors and petro-leums scored advances of two to four points, but Westinghouse failed to hold its recent prominence, the company's proposed financing acting as deter-rent to speculative activity.

United States Steel, Canadian Pa-cific and other shares in the interna-tional list, were offered in moderate amounts for London and the continent. Foreign interests bought lightly of the coppers, which led the late recovery. There were rumors that the Amalgamated Copper company is to dissolve, with resultant benefits to its shareholders, as well as to Anaconda which now controls the operations of the Amalgamated company.

News bearing upon the general financial situation included the virtual completion of negotiations for a $50,-000,000 loan to Argentina, half to be taken by British bankers, pronounced strength in foreign exchange, which was attributed to further selling of our stocks for the foreigners and im-provement in railroad and labor con-

COACH COURTNEY ANXIOUS. With First Race Coming Soon Shakes Up Varsity Boats.

That the Cornell crews, with the Princeton and Yale race only two weeks away, are still in an unsettled state and that Coach Charles E, Courtney has decided to continue his series of experiments until he has made up his own mind as to the final merits of all of the candidates for the var-sity crew was indicated this week by the remarkable shake up, which included all three of the varsity combinations.

When the week opened the so-called first varsity combination, which had been rowing together for several weeks, was still intact. By Wednesday weeks, was still intact. By Wednesday only three of the men who had been rowing in that eight were still in the shell. The latest first varsity consists of Terriberry at bow; Ellms, the commodore, stroke; Welles of last year's varsity at 3, and Andrus, the stroke oar of last year's junior eight at 4. Moir, Calder, Kingsland, all new men, and O'Brien, one of last year's varsity veterans, complete the list. Welles, Andrus and Moir are the only three men from the original so-called three men from the original so-called first varsity combination remaining after the shake up.

Eventually it will not be surprising if the Old Man will turn out a crew which will include in it the following: Collyer, Cushing, Terriberry, Andrus, Moir, O'Brien, and Russell Welles of this city.

Little Hope for Olympic Games. Baron de Coubertain, president of the Olympic games committee, which recently chose Lausanna as its inter-authority to hand over the event to another country. Several towns in France and America would be glad to hold the meeting, but permission can-not be granted, as the committee is hedged in with regulations formed many years ago. It may therefore be concluded that the Olympic games of 1916 will not take place.
